Whereas, this prestigious award, earned by only nine of Missouri's 524 public school districts this year, is based on the school board's outstanding commitment to ongoing professional development, to regional and statewide leadership, to active participation in legislative advocacy for public schools, and to the successful implementation of not only compliant but also transformative education policy; and

Whereas, the Raytown C-2 School District participates in MSBA's Policy services and has conducted a Policy review and update in the last year; and

Whereas, members of the Raytown C-2 School Board have each obtained Essential certification from MSBA, while at least two members have attained the Advanced level of certification from MSBA; and

Whereas, the Raytown C-2 School District and other 2007 Education Leadership Team award recipients will be formally recognized and celebrated at MSBA's Leadership Summit to be held in June of 2007 in Columbia:
